

2019 Fall Farewell Ceremony Student's Flashback

By Tobias Wistuba

Who are we?

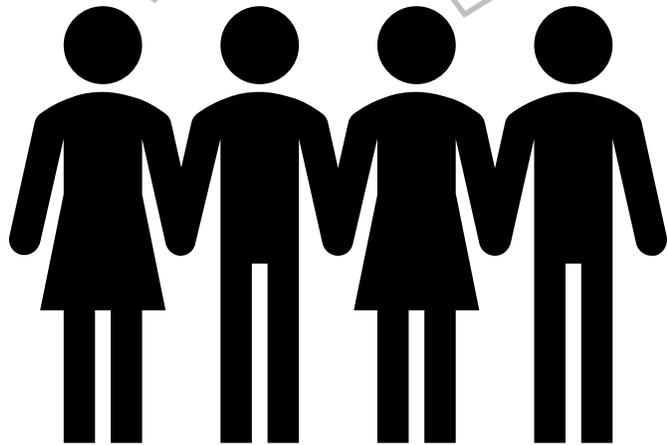

KOREA?

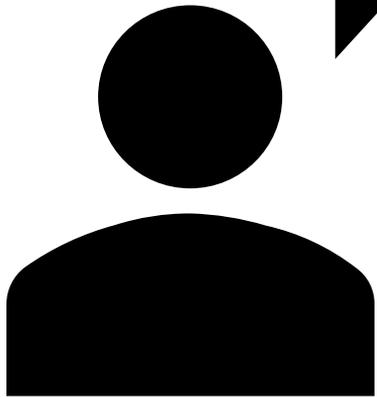

- Adventurous
- Exciting
- Home
- Yummy
- unforgettable

- Awesome
- Multi-faceted
- Smashing
- Amazing
- Many

- Life-changing
- Opportunities
- Convenience
- Discoveries

- Kimchi
- Noraebang
- Insomnia
- Soju
- Capitalism

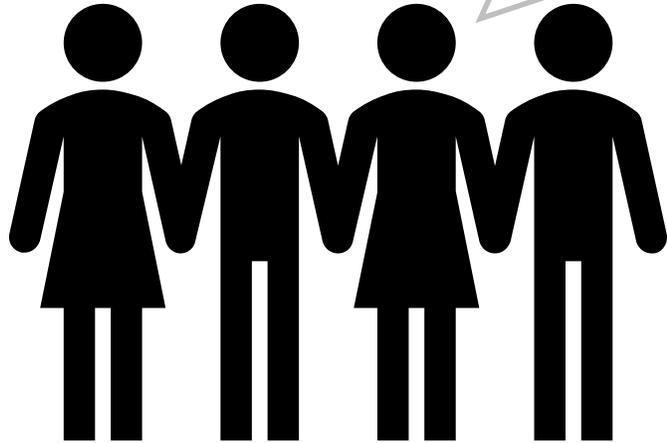

- The restaurants
- Food
- Iced coffee
- Noraebang
- Chicken & Beer

- Exploring a culture incredibly foreign to me
- Trip to Jeju
- Traveling
- Being back in Korea

How every shop is designed so prettily and that you can see the effort put into coffee shops and outfits on dates with friends

The fact that I got so many great friends from all around the world during the time I have been here.

- Making very good friends
- Meeting new people
- Parties

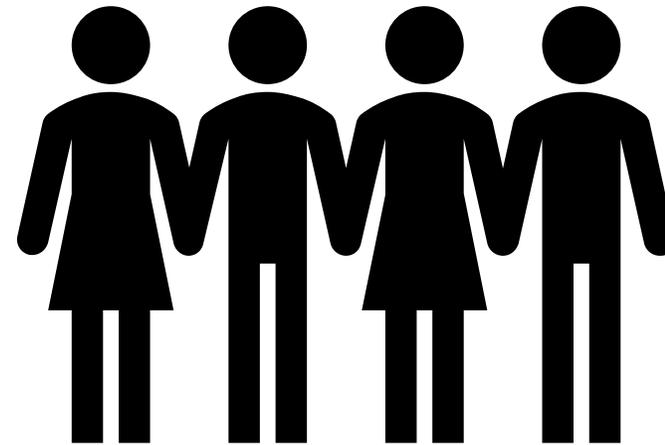

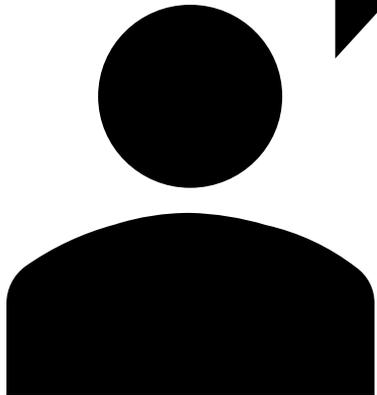

- Haneul Park in Seoul
- Yeoju, Han-River Park
- The bars in Sinchon

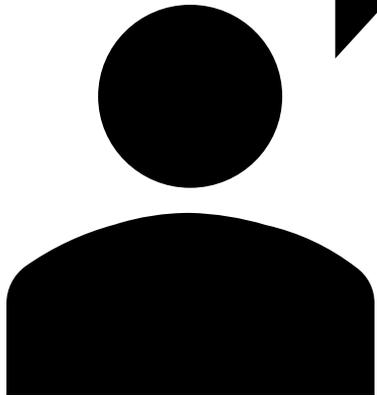

- Hangang
- the palaces & temples
- Namsam Tower
- COEX Library

- Seoul
- Busan
- Jeju Island
- Geoje Island

There is a little tea-
place outside of Ewha that makes my heart burst with joy

- Yeonnamdong
- Changgyecheon
- Hongdae

Ewha
❤️?

I hate it and like it at the same time: classes are more difficult than in my home university, so it's a challenge! And the campus is amazing

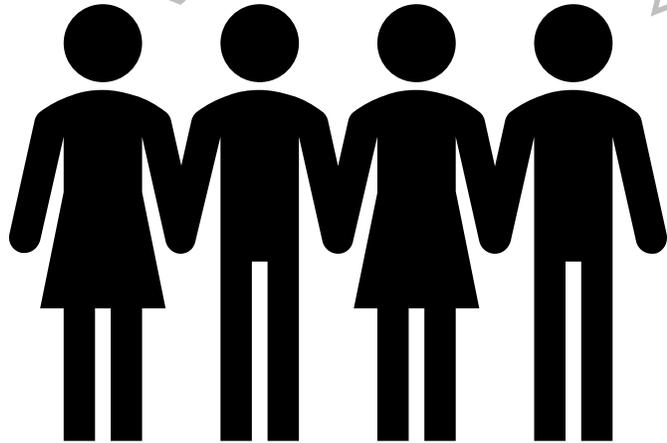

- Buddy Programm
- Friends
- Amazing friends that I got here
- The people (professors, staff, classmates)

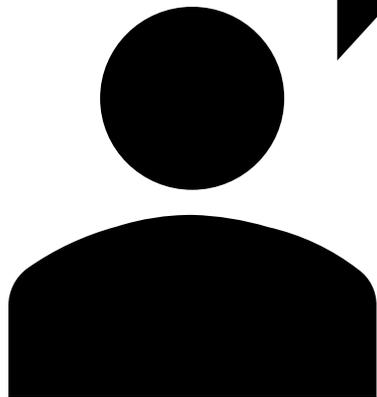

- The trees
- The location
- The lovely campus
- The atmosphere
- All the coffeeshops
- Golden fall

That there are Koreans in my classes. It is easier to make friends that way.

- Living together with friends at I-House
- "This is an announcement from the Housing Office..."

The scenery is beautiful and it is close to a lot of places in Seoul

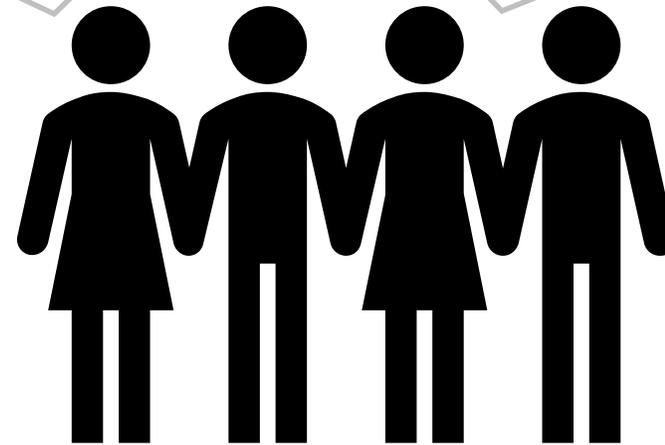

KOREA
↔
HOME?

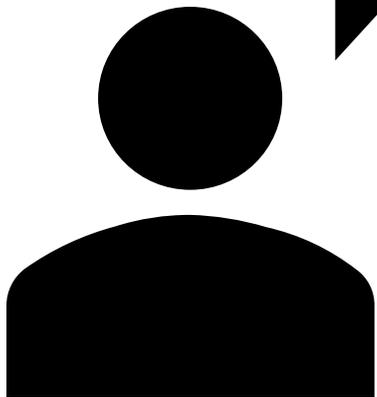

- Not saying bless you after sneezing
- Koreans are very warm towards strangers
- The type of breakfast is completely different...

- not holding doors open for people and not saying sorry when you bump into others
- The seniority system, respect is expected while respect back home is earned
- there is the super clean aspect of everything: streets people ...

- Leaving stuff unattended
- Beauty criteria are different
- Koreans are always cute
- Everyone is totally honest

The competitive environment of the education system and throughout working life leading to people working each other to death

KOREA
↔
HOME?

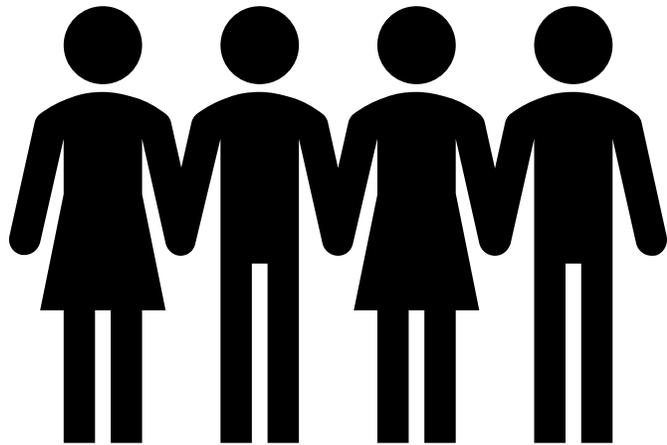

When you meet people in my homecountry, you introduce yourself with a handshake and here you just wave

- The safety during the night when you are a girl
- Traffic. It is chaotic here.

- Trashcans
- Order
- Politeness/ Hierarchy

You can get everything you need at ECC, we do not have a building like that Though Koreans are inherently very helpful and friendly, they seem very stoic in public.

DID YOUR PLANS CHANGE?

NO 47.6%

52.4% YES

Future plans?

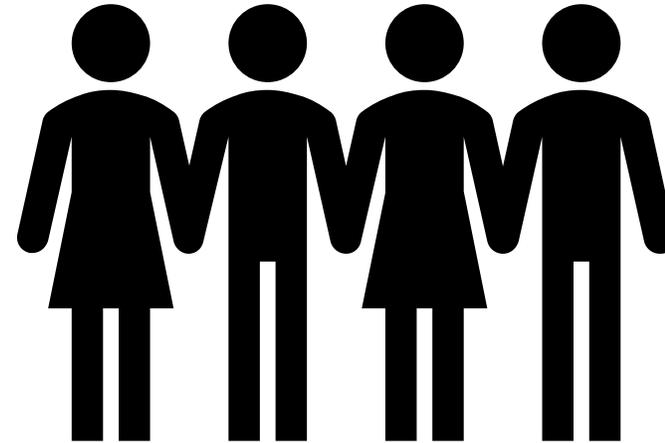

Wanted to stay one semester, tried to extend my stay but unfortunately it was not possible. But I know that first I will travel Asia and then the other continents.

I've always wanted to live in Korea and develop my career here. Spending 4 months here made me love the country even more, and now I am certain this is where I want to work when I graduate.

I can imagine living in another country.

Quitting my degree program

Having a roommate in Germany

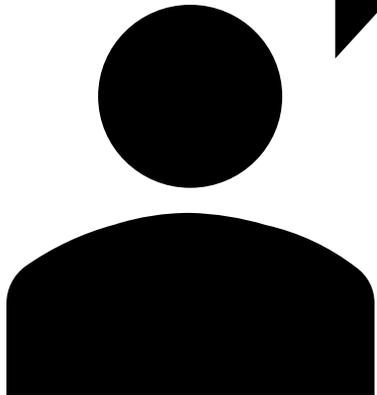

DID YOUR PLANS CHANGE?

NO 47.6%

52.4% YES

Future plans?

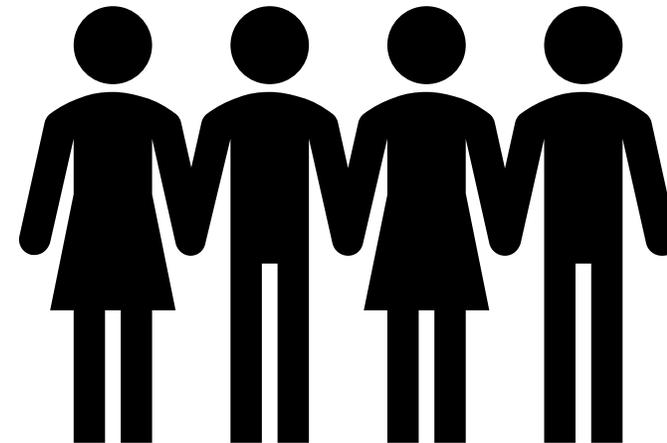

I think I found which master i am going to do, and now i definitely know what job i want to do and how I want to live my life. It also taught me to be more confident in my capacities

I want to come back in Asia as soon as possible

I know who I want to spend my future with

I am going to be more serious about my future and I want to travel to Asia more often.

It had made me more certain that I would like to make a home in Korea in the future!

To-Do List

- Eat croissants and bread
- Hang out with my friends
- Giving my dog the biggest hug and all the kisses
- Cook some food
- Meet my friends and family
- See my friends at the christmas market of my town
- Hug my family
- Eating home cooked meals with my whole family
- Cry
- Meet my friends and tell them everything
- Celebrate christmas
- Buy sparkling water
- Eat cheese and bread
- At Austrian food and sleep
- Importing Soju
- Good German breakfast with German bread and coffee
- Eat Danish bread(rugbrød)

TOGETHER.
TOMORROW.
EWWHA